MASONIC PICNIC POSTPONED.

Owing to the inclement weather the Masonic picnic has been postponed until next Tuesday. Keep that day free for a pleasant outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lehrman returned on Friday from a two weeks visit to Banff.

N. E. Carruthers is in Edmonton in connection with the departmental examinations.

The lowest tender for Calgary's new city hall was $68000 higher than the architect's estimate.

Another attempt was made on Thursday night to set fire to the public school building. During the storm lightning struck the building, knocking the side out of the chimney, but luckily doing no further damage.

The Agricultural prize list for 1907 is now in the hands of the printer and will be ready for distribution in the near future. This year's list is the most complete ever got out here, and contains many new classes.

FOR SALE

2 short horn bulls. 1 short horn cow with bull calf at foot. 2 short horn grade heifers with calves at foot. Yorkshire pigs. Plymouth Rock fowls.

J. B. Harrington, V. S.
Lacombe.

The storm on Thursday last did no damage in this vicinity, although word has been received that crops were slightly injured north and east of Lacombe.

The Presbyterian picnic at Gull Lake on Wednesday last was well attended and young and old had a good time. The youngsters were treated to a boat ride and afterwards races were indulged in for an hour or two. There were plenty of good things provided by the ladies of the church and the picnic was the most successful yet held.

After Aug. 1st we'll Sell for Cash Only.

BEGINNING Aug. 1st, 1907

we will sell goods for cash or produce only. We will do no Credit Business whatever.

We make this change in our methods after due consideration of every phase of the situation, and we feel certain that you will agree with us that we are best serving your interests as well as our own by making the change.

Naturally, while we have been doing a credit business there have been losses on bad accounts, not only because certain people did not intend to pay when they had the goods charged, but also because others through sickness and other causes were unable to pay up when they had agreed, and when other creditors pressed them too hard went into bankruptcy and secured an annulment of their debts.

The cash basis will enable us to make lower prices for the same qualities, or give better qualities for the same money.

We know we have credit customers who are "as good as gold," and in making this change to a cash basis we do not question any man's ability or willingness to pay his honest debts. We make the change because by doing so we can serve all of our customers better.

We take this opportunity of thanking our old customers for their long continued patronage. We appreciate the trade you have given us in the past, and we invite you to keep on trading with us. We honestly believe that you can afford to pay as high as 8 per cent. for money borrowed to pay cash for what you buy from us, rather than trade at credit stores and pay the other fellow's debts.

Let us prove it to you.

THE CATALOGUE HOUSE

WHY YOU SHOULD NOT PATRONIZE IT.

There is no distinct separation of consumer and producer, except when we look at other employments from the point of view of only one employment. To each farmer, manufacturer, or storekeeper, all the rest of the world constitute the buyers. In reality, when we look at the community as a whole, all are in one way or another producers, and all are selling. When we view separately each person's efforts to get rid of his product for money, we get an idea of buying and selling. It may seem on first thought, that a wealthy manufacturer is always selling; but in one form or another, the whole of the money that he gets for his goods is exchanged for other goods. He spends it for goods in many ways; he pays it out for household expenses; for horses or books or pictures. No one produces and sells simply to get money. We work to get money only for what the money will buy. Money is merely the road, and not the place to which the road leads.

Since, therefore, each person who is producing is looking for a buyer, and since the buyers are scattered everywhere, it is a convenience for both buyer and seller if some convenient place of meeting is established. Such a place is a market or store.

Originally people held fairs, such as are now annually held in Russian cities. Every store is only a species of these fairs. Articles of all kinds are kept on hand ready for the buyer. If each person supplied all his own wants there would be no need for these stores. This state of affairs is impossible, hence the need of places where the seller can find the buyer with least inconvenience and expense. Persons who become merchants, and devote themselves and their capital wholly to making it possible for the producer to exchange his goods, demand payment for the use of their time and capital in this occupation. This is a charge which all people must pay who deal with merchants. A great many people think that the middleman, who like merchants, stand between the buyer and seller are useless, and that the expense of supporting them is unnecessary. If, however, they are unnecessary, is it not strange that the world continues to make use of them in increasing numbers? It must seem clear that because there is such a division of employment, some common place of exchange, like stores, are needed, and that we cannot get along without them. If each person was to try and find a buyer for his products, instead of going to one man who made a business of purchasing the products of many, he would waste a great deal of valuable time and money. If merchants were exorbitant in their prices, wasteful and expensive, some cheaper way of carrying on this exchange would be necessary.

The market and the merchant are a necessity. A place in your home town, perhaps within five minutes walk of your own door, where you can exchange money or produce for any one of the many things which you need daily, is certainly a great convenience. This merchant who supplies your needs is a friend to progress and advancement in the best interests of the town in which you live, or the country contiguous to that town.

A good town spreads its influence far beyond its corporate limits. Buying at home, selling at home, each with fair profit is the only method by which the wealth of the country can be kept in the vicinity of its production. A great hue and cry is going up all over the country against the mail order business. And there is just cause for alarm. The individual who can save a few cents by buying in Winnipeg or Toronto with no possible chance of any part of the purchase money returning to him, is certainly taking a narrow view of the situation.

The satisfaction of seeing what you buy, the novelty of shopping, the prompt use of what you want without a long tedious wait, and perhaps an annoying correspondence, are all in favor of the home merchant.

The subscription papers, circulated for a worthy cause, always find their way to the home merchant, while the catalogue house is never thought of. A successful celebration made possible only by the liberality and energy of those said merchants who ask your patronage, not by the Mail Order concerns who send out tons of pictured literature, stuffed with hot air and 99c bargains. Stand by the home merchant and he will stand by you. Stand by the catalogue man and you stand alone.

Grace Church Concert

The concert given in Grace Church by the members of the choir, assisted by friends, on Monday evening, was well patronized, and the audience had the satisfaction of listening to a most creditable programme. Every number was well rendered, and if any weakness was noticeable in the rendition of any of the items, it was in the chorus singing. In these items the sopranos were not capable of producing the volume required to balance the other parts evenly; but this defect is accounted for by the fact that one or two of the ladies who were to fill this part were unavoidably absent holidaying. Dr. E. M. Sharpe occupied the chair and performed the duties of his position in his usual able manner.

The first number was a piano selection by Mrs. Spratt, which was neatly executed. The recitations rendered by Miss Lundy were of a high order. Miss Lundy is always a favorite with Lacombe audiences. The violin solo by Mrs. Lister was a well deserved encore. Miss Alcock, in her rendering of "Saunders McGlashan's Courtship" won her way at once into the affections of her audience and had to respond to a rapturous encore. This lady is a very jolly entertainer. The male quartette, Messrs. Steers, McVay, Page and Slater, sang well, their voices blending well. The mixed quartette, the Messrs. Henshaw and Messrs. McVay and Slater also acquitted themselves with credit. Miss Amy Puffer recited very well, and responded to an encore. The piano duet by Mrs. Lister and Mrs. Denike was well played, their touch being in unison. They had to respond also. It would be impossible to single out any one performer as each proved equally talented and all successfully contributing to a splendid evening's entertainment.

BARNETT AVENUE SEWER.

The council is taking up the very necessary work of draining Barnett Avenue. The proposition is to put in a 12 inch pipe from the west corner of the school grounds to the slough below the flour mill. The work will be done on the frontage tax plan. The council have received from Engineer Farncomb an estimate of the cost of the work, which seems very reasonable. The drain will be a great benefit to Lacombe, and it is to be hoped that the council will push it through to completion.

Teachers Examinations.

The following candidates for teacher's certificates wrote on the examinations held in Lacombe last week. For 2nd class certificates—Leslie Standish, Dora Talbot, Mac Talbot, Alf Peterson, Edwin Horne, Edna Shilleto, Clara Munsell, May Hull, Muriel Simpson, Jean Beldome, Jessie Glass, Lola Murphy, Mary Munsell, Anne Archibald, Lottie Clark, Ada Jones, Jeanne Sundberg, Stella Mooney, Nellie McFarlane, Pearl Frizell. For 2nd class certificates—Mary McDonald, Julius White, Alice Jenkins.

For 1st class certificate—Nepes Russell, Henry Harding, Lilian Vickerson. Inspector Thibaultian presided.

Alix Incorporated.

Alix, the thriving burg on the east line, was incorporated last week. The first vote for councilors resulted as follows: H. W. Graham, R. F. Sanderson and Chas. Woolgar. The secretary-treasurer will be appointed later on. Alix is going ahead this year faster than ever. All the business men report business flourishing and the farmers in the surrounding country are in high spirits over the prospects of big crops.

Medical Hall

Owing to the wholesale houses going on a cash basis, and also the other merchants in town, we have decided to put our business on a strictly cash basis. We can do better for our customers, and CASH is the only business for several reasons. We can buy drugs for cash and get a liberal discount. You can get them from us at a better price, and it is a mutual benefit. We would like the co-operation of our many customers. Call and get our prices and compare with others.

Drugs, Stationery, Patent Medicines,
Pipes, Tobaccos and Cigars.

MILTON.

Plenty of warm weather and showers are making the crops look very encouraging.

Mr. Frank Wolf and family commenced moving out to their home, east of Stettler last Thursday. We are sorry to lose the family from our neighborhood.

We understand that Norman Fawcett and Mr. Morier started last Tuesday to explore the Peace River country.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry took a trip to Calgary last week during the fair time.

Mrs. Cado and daughter from North Dakota have just completed a visit to her brother, Mr. Henry and his family.

The program at our picnic promises to be better than usual if the day is fine.

Mr. Editor—You know how we Canadians like pie! How will we shorten our pie-crust if the Agricultural Association does away with lard hog? I expect we will have to eat it long. But there is one chance left for us, they have over-looked the English Berkshire and they are a lard hog.

The "big head" is a popular way of expressing a common and very frequent ailment. It arises from various sources but the real foundation is the lack of sense. A little money develops it in some people, a few good clothes gives it to others, a little office where a chance is given to exercise a little authority is often the cause of it, while others get it because of having a little better job than their associates. The truth is, no sensible person gets the "big head." The one who becomes stuck up, and arrogant, is a true source of this kind is weak in the intellectual calibre.

THE PANTHER

A panther is loose in the haunts of men,
Strong, crafty and cruel and none may know
What wooded valley shall hold his den,
Or by what paths he will come and go.
In the shaded tree boughs he may lie concealed
In wayside brambles and flowery dell;
The father has taken his gun afield,
And the mother watches the children well.

The panther is loose! He has put to flight
All zest for pleasure, or gain, or strife.
Somebody's child may be killed outright,
Someone mangled or maimed for life.
So every man to the rescue springs
Armed and vigilant. Heart and brain
Spurning the claims of lesser things,
Till the hidden menace be caged or slain.

But what of the enemy, fiercer far,
Who roams at will through the city street,
Who lurks where the seekers of pleasure are,
Who enters the home with noiseless feet?
The husband is shamed by his precious wife,
The mother moans o'er her bright boy's fall,
And orphans weep, while crime and strife
And murder and suicide end it all.

Birth, beauty and talent before him fall,
He conquers the mighty again and again
Will you guard by law King Alcohol?
Will you set a price on the souls of men?
You would save the child from the panther's jaws,
Will you leave him now to a fate far worse?
In the strength of God for a righteous cause,
Arise and conquer the liquor curse!

THE MOVEMENT OF POPULATION ACROSS THE BORDER.

(From the Brooklyn Eagle.)

It is only men and women of strength and address who make homes in new places. The sort of people who settled in New England, and who afterwards carried civilization into the west, are now dotting the plains of Canada with towns and hamlets, and making, amid surroundings that at first seemed hostile, those safeguards of law and living that insure peace and plenty in years to come. We cannot detain those migrants with offers of free lands, since Uncle Sam is no longer rich enough to give us all a farm, nor can we offer to each of them as are of moderate means the health and comfort in cities that should be the heritage of people doomed to an environment of bricks and mortar. We must let them go with a Godspeed, comforted by the reflection that Canada is not far, and that an American element in its population and its business interests cannot but make for a continuation of friendly relations between the two countries.

But while the drain upon our population that Canada is now making is but small, there may come a time and not far in the future, when it will be larger. The growth of discontent in this country is not all among the humble. On the contrary, it is the aggressions of those who used to be humble that are causing disquiet among the wealthy and conservative. Our republic is still young, and it has the faults of its youth. Many find its intense absorption in the material things of the world, in its amateur politics, its municipal corruptions, its slow courts and unpunished crimes, its free and easy manners, its prying curiosity and the injurious gossip of its cheaper press, nothing but irritants; they regard the milliner of mechanic labor with apprehension, and with still deeper anxiety they view the levy of taxes and assessment on their property to furnish funds that are often wasted in public works that are mere experiments, and have to be undone at greater cost by succeeding administrations.

Some of those who find America too swift and strenuous are seeking homes beyond the sea; others are withdrawing from the business centres to our own hills and reverting to the quieter and more healthful lives of their ancestors; but Canada offers to the man who is desirous both of a quiet and orderly way of life and of sufficient business opportunities the advantages he asks. An immense physical development is assured in the near future for parts of the Dominion that are now wilderness, and in the meantime there is a minimum of government and a modicum of politics, that are refreshing to the stranger. Canada is deliberate; it is England over again, and prides itself on that circumstance.

Medicine Valley News

On July first, the residents of this district made their first effort to hold a celebration on Canada's natal day, and it proved to be a most successful and enjoyable day for all. Good horse races, foot races and dancing in the afternoon and evening. The most interesting event of the day was a wrestling match between E. H. Benson of Bentley and F. S. Hallett of the Valley. The purse was won by Hallett throwing his opponent 3 times in twenty four minutes of very fast work. All who were in attendance went away pleased with the days spent and determined that a Dominion Day celebration would become a fixed affair in Medicine Valley.

NEWS OF ALIX

As was intimated in our last issue the voting for the three councillors to attend to the affairs of our newly incorporated village, was due on Thursday last. There were eleven candidates nominated, but one withdrew, and another was disqualified. A large number voted, and the following gentlemen were, at the close of the poll, declared duly elected viz: Messrs. R. F. Sanderson, H. W. Garman, and Charles Woolgar. M. G. H. Darlow acted as returning officer, and the voting took place in his office.

Dr. Graham, formerly of Toronto, has commenced to practice his profession in Alix. He is occupying the upper part of the premises till lately occupied by the Merchants Bank.

The Methodist church has been lathed and plastered, adding much to its appearance.

Mr. Mott disposed by auction of his stock and farm utensils on Monday last. Mr. S. W. Paisley acted as auctioneer. The bidding was brisk and fair prices were realized.

Mr. Johnson, of Valley City, is it is said, about to build a large store on a lot near the Public Hall. It is his intention to open a large general store.

Many of the youthful members of the community took in the picnic at Valley City on Friday last. Alix band was also represented.

The Census Department estimates that the population of Canada on April 1 was six and a half millions. If the figures are correct as they doubtless are, Canada is at last beginning to show rapid progress after a long period of very slow growth. This shows an increase of 1,122,550 in the last six years, which is in the twenty years from 1871 to 1891 the growth was only one million. We may safely say that the present rate of increase being maintained for many years to come.

THE BEEF COMMISSION.

The Beef Commission met on Monday and Tuesday last, and about fifteen witnesses were examined. The problem before the commission here was that of the mixed farmer who has but a few cattle for sale each year. The district produced about $100,000 worth of beef cattle last year which represented the production of a great number of farmers. The chief complaint of the mixed farmers is like that of the rancher, the want of competition. They are unable to gauge the local market by the outside markets, and the only market they know is the one fixed by P. Burns & Co. or Gordon Bros. & Co.

The hog raisers complain of the unsteadiness of the local market when there is no variation of the price in outside points like Winnipeg, Montreal or Chicago. They claim that the price is put up to induce the farmers to get a large stock in supply and then cut down enabling the big dealers to get the benefit of the farmer's sacrifice. The farmers are sanguine of the development of the hog industry in Alberta, once a reasonable market is secured. They say that the only solution is the establishment of a pork packing house under government supervision to regulate and act as a safety valve against the oppression of the monopolist. The district is admirably suited for production of grain and the farmers have learned that it is more profitable to convert their grain into beef or pork than to sell it as grain. There is only one elevator in Lacombe, but there are dozens of fine pure bred herds of cattle, beef steers and bacon hogs.

Not are the farmers suited with the methods adopted by the dealers in deducting 5 per cent. of the weight of their cattle for shrinkage. The witnesses generally objected to this practice and declared it was excessive.

The other side of the story was submitted by W. F. Puffer, M.P.P., who, besides conducting his own meat market in the town of Lacombe, acts as agent for P. Burns & Co. Mr. Puffer traversed the ground in a manly, fearless manner and induced very conclusively that the dealers had difficulties as well as the farmer. He explained very satisfactorily the contract system and quoted cases where cattle had shown a greater shrinkage than 5 per cent. As far as weighing the cattle was concerned, he stated, he would prefer to take the weight of an independent party who would weigh off cars at Calgary after the cattle had been fed hay and water there.

VALLEY CITY TOPICS*VALLEY CITY.

A heavy rain fell here on Thursday evening, but Friday morning the sun rose on a cloudless sky. The inhabitants were early astir, busy decorating the town for their great celebration. Crowds soon began to pour in from Long and Pleasant Valleys. Teos, Alix, Bullockville, Morningside, Lacombe and Erskine were all well represented. A great number of Orangemen turned out and added greatly to the brightness of the scene with their flags and badges. The Alix band played selections throughout the day and their music was greatly appreciated. From ten in the morning until nearly ten in the evening the people present were entertained with baseball games, speeches, athletic sports, and horse races. After the sports a grand ball was held which was largely attended, music being furnished by the Thomas Orchestra and Messrs. Mason and Jeninsky of the Alix band. Everything went without a hitch and on all sides you could hear praises of the way Valley City treated her guests. A painful accident happened to Mr. Bucknell, catcher of the Bullockville Baseball Team, he being hit in the face by a ball and his nose broken. The following are the results:—

On Celebration Day Mr. Fletcher of Lacombe was present and took several pictures of the crowd. Mr. Morten head of the Lacombe Orangemen was also present and we hear that a movement is now on foot to found an Orange Lodge in Valley City. There are numerous orangemen living round the town and we ought to have a strong lodge here.

Mr. Breden has now his Creamery office in the Hotel Building.

Valley City Baseball Club played last evening on Wednesday the 19th and had an easy victory.

BEAUTIFUL GULL LAKE.

Gull Lake, Lacombe's beautiful summer resort is more popular this year than ever. A great many families from town are already camped there and many more would be there if accommodation could be secured. The road to the lake is being fixed up considerably this year, the big hill a couple of miles west being cut down, and some of the bad spots being made more passable. Gull Lake is just eight miles west of Lacombe, and is one of the beauty spots of Alberta. Its fame is already spread abroad and every year visitors are coming in increasing numbers. The lake is 15 miles in length and is surrounded with shade trees, the bottom and beach is of pure white sands in fact it is an ideal place at which to spend a summer holiday. At the present time there are about fifty cottages built along its shores and a great many more are under construction. Campers from Edmonton, Calgary and other Alberta centres are found there this year.

To the Mayor and Council of the town of Lacombe. Gentlemen:

and all have the same story to tell. They have never seen any place in the west to compare with it. Visitors will find a number of row and sail boats at their disposal, and in addition there is a steam yacht and a gasoline launch on the lake. The food question has been improved this year by Mr. Weisse erecting a store and putting in a stock of general camp supplies, and anyone running short of provisions can sort up there. The stores in Lacombe make a specialty of campers supplies, and everything required from a camp stove and tent up to the daintiest edibles can be procured. The lively barns cater to the lake trade and a line to any of them will have a team ready at the station at the required moment.

TEES NEWS.

Owing to the fact of the Tees correspondent having fled to the mountains, we have tried to fill the all important position by our humble pen. Motto:—"Three heads are better than one."

Who said Tees was dead? The man who said that ought to have been at Tees last Wednesday when 500 or more people had the best time they ever had in their lives.

There is one thing to be said and that is Mr. Minnick knows how to ride a 'bucking' horse. The baseball match between Valley City and Tees was a good one, the City being victorious, but we must not forget that Tees played several junior players.

By the way! Why did Lacombe forfeit the game? Nobody knows. Some one said they were afraid, we fear it is true.

The village constable, with his truncheon felt himself of some importance, though his tin plate of office did not arrive from town in time for the all-important occasion.

Free Lemons! This was the cry of A. W. Lawson at six in the morning rousing all the neighbors. We hope there was nothing stronger around town.

The races were enjoyed by all who took part and the ladies' ball driving competition was a big item of amusement as was also the married ladies race and the gentlemen's beauty show.

The tennis tournament began at three in the afternoon when the ladies' and gents' singles were played. The mixed doubles were put off till the evening but unfortunately the wind arose and that put an end to playing.

The days sport was concluded by a very fine wrestling match, and also a dance which did not conclude until the early hours of the following day.

Everyone seemed to have enjoyed themselves. Married men and women were present, young men with their sisters and other fellow's sisters, cousins, aunts and uncles; and all were smiling faces.

We must not forget the Alibi band who looked well in their uniform and played well, thus adding a big item to the day's enjoyment. (Gentle. Can Valley City beat Tees this time?)

LOWALTA.

The Edmonton bridge contractors have just completed building two bridges, one over Wolf Creek on the line and one over Lord's Creek.

Lowalta school has closed for six weeks. Miss Mary Swanson, teacher of Lowalta school leaves for Calgary and Banff, about July 15, to spend her holidays.

Miss Pearl Frizzell is spending her holidays at home.

Mr. John Morter is taking a trip north to look over and locate land. This part of the country looks beautiful just now, with its green trees, and lovely wild flowers and sweet song birds.

The wheat and oat fields look fine with prospects of an abundant harvest.

CHIGWELL.

The storm of hail and rain on Thursday did a considerable damage to the crops.

Miss Jessie McCulloch of Hognam Wash, is in the neighborhood visiting friends and old schoolmates.

Mrs. Ed Martin is on the sick list this week.

The new store at Chigwell is nearly completed and about ready for the goods.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Butcher of Arbdale were over Sunday visitors at the home of A. L. Whitten.

The school picnic, that was postponed on account of the rain was held last Saturday and the children were given a treat and a jolly time.

Mr. A. L. Whitten took a trip to Erskine last Thursday.

The material for the elevator is on the ground.

Mr. Mills has the contract to build a boarding house and will commence as soon as the lumber arrives.

Arthur and Floyd Wilson went to Erskine Friday to visit their brother.
